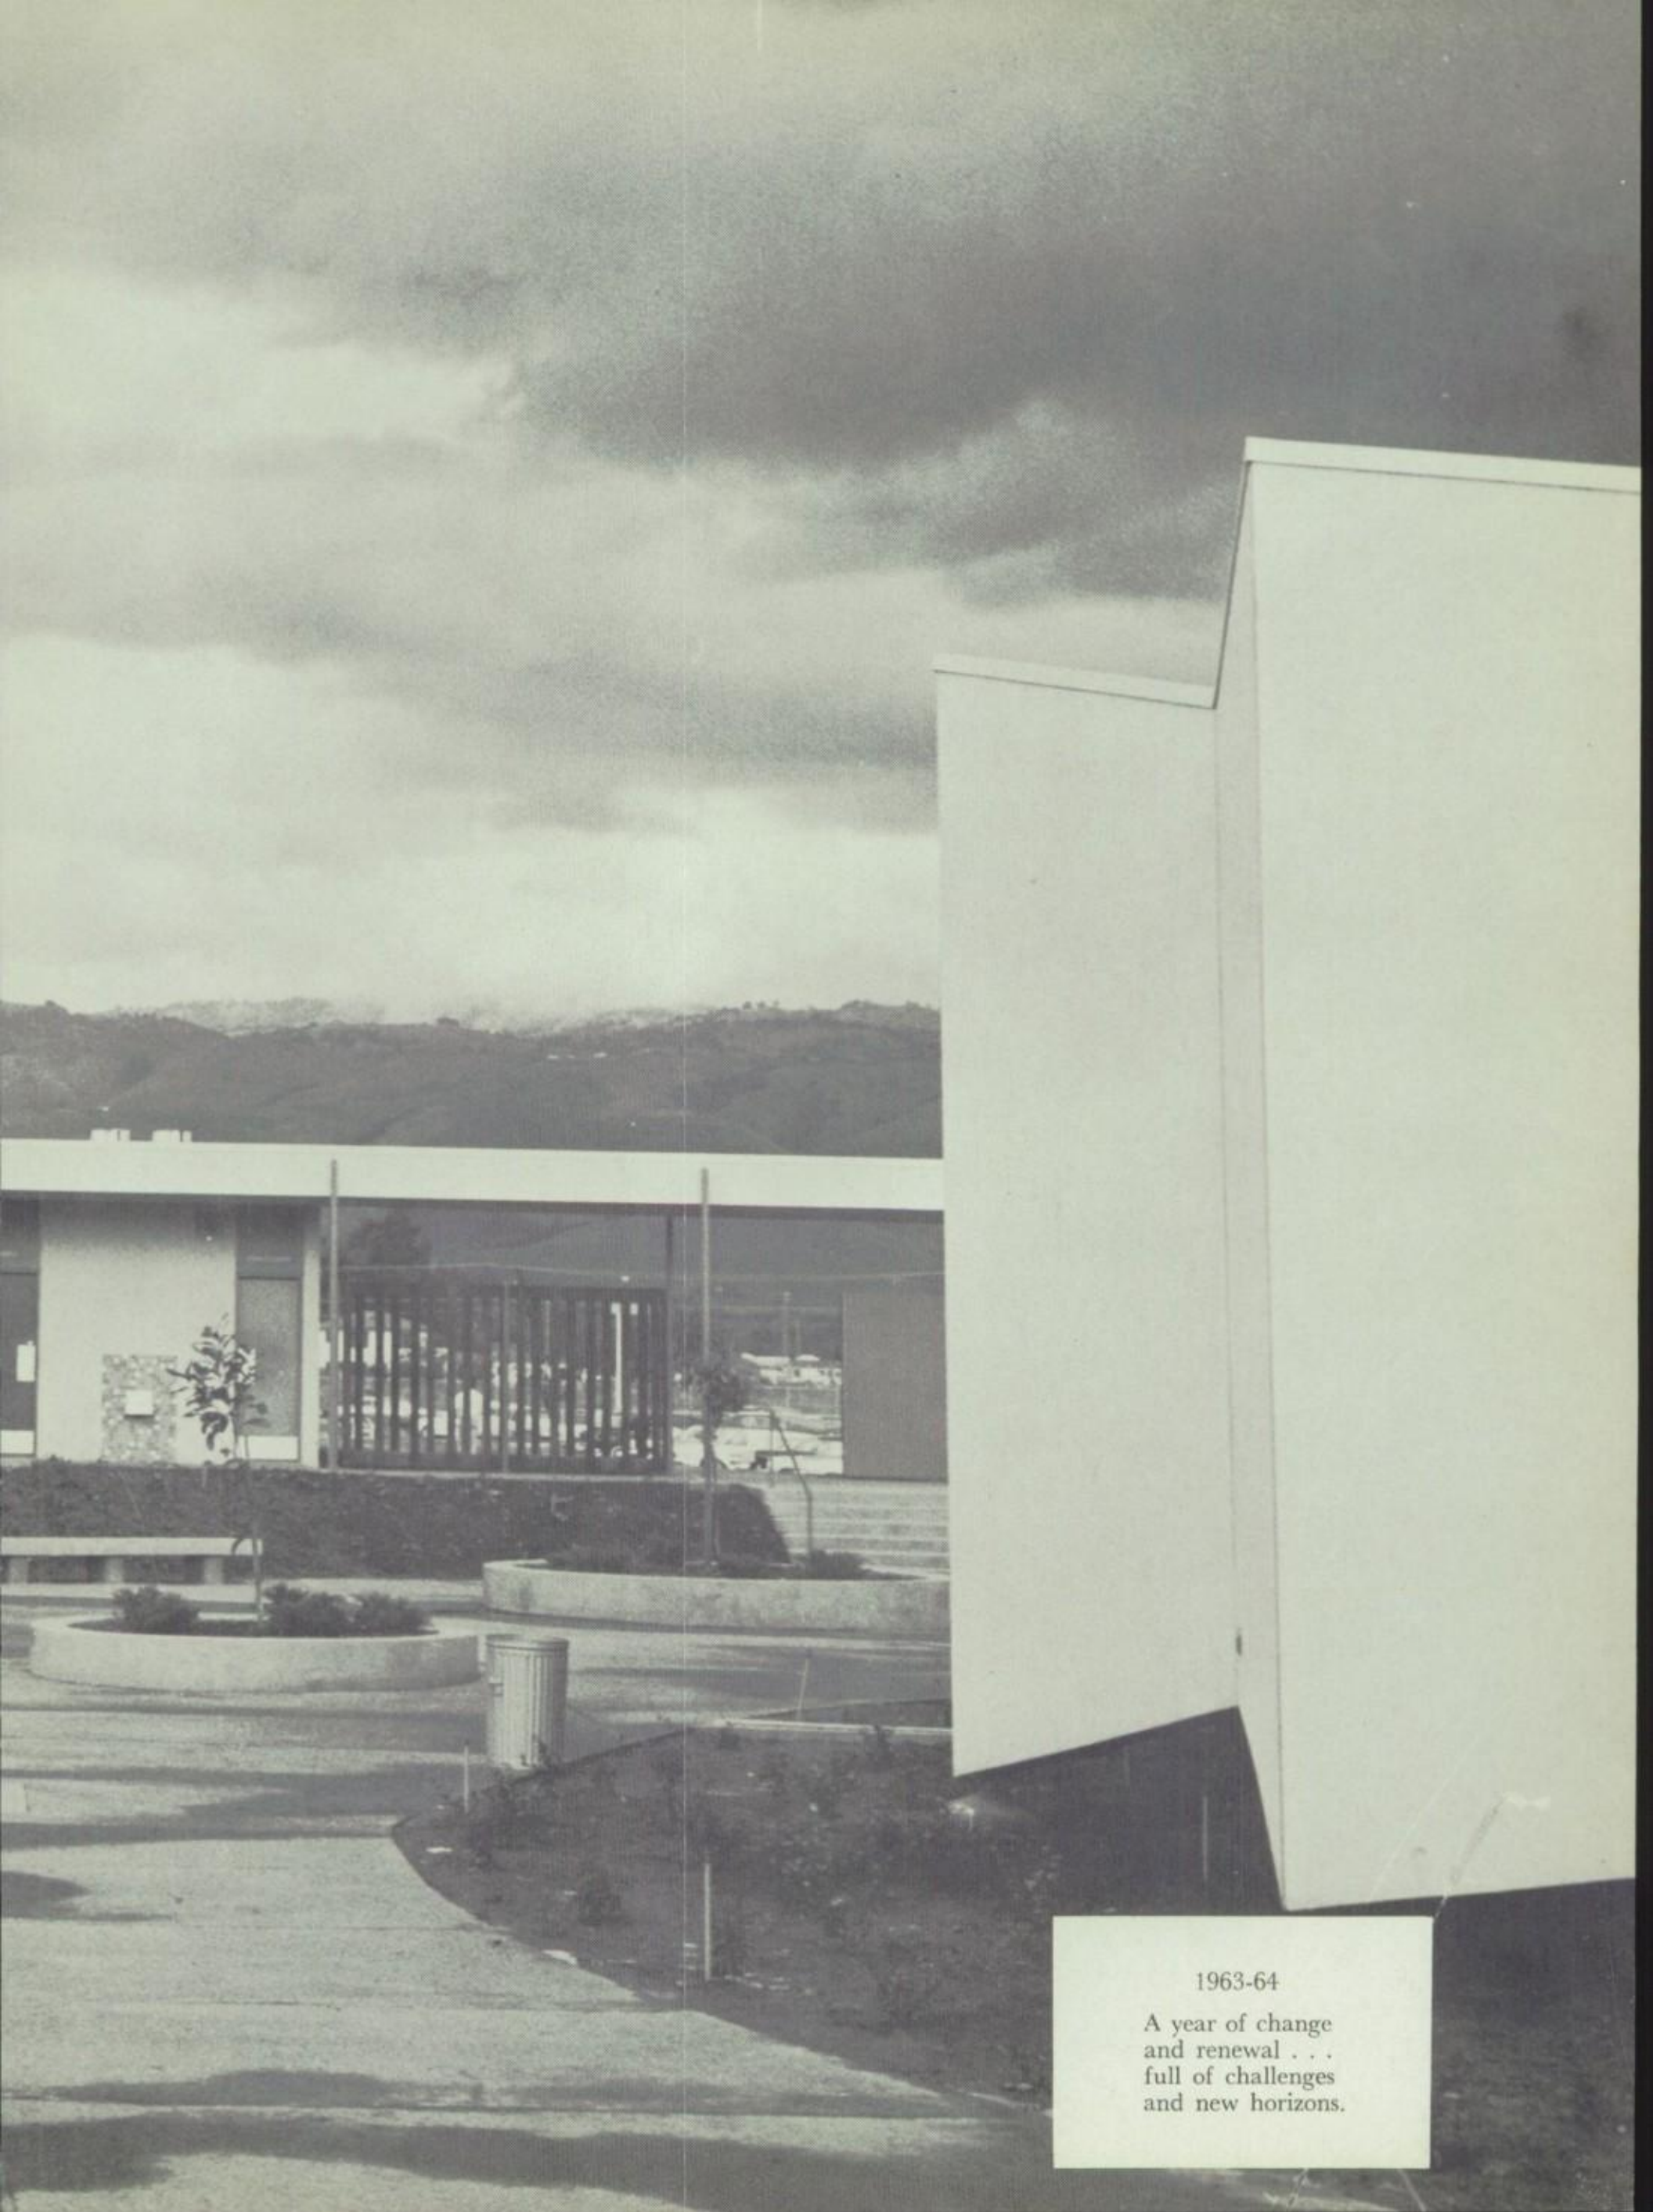
CITADEL 64

William C. Overfelt High School

1835 Cunningham Avenue

San Jose, California



1963-64

A year of change and renewal . . .
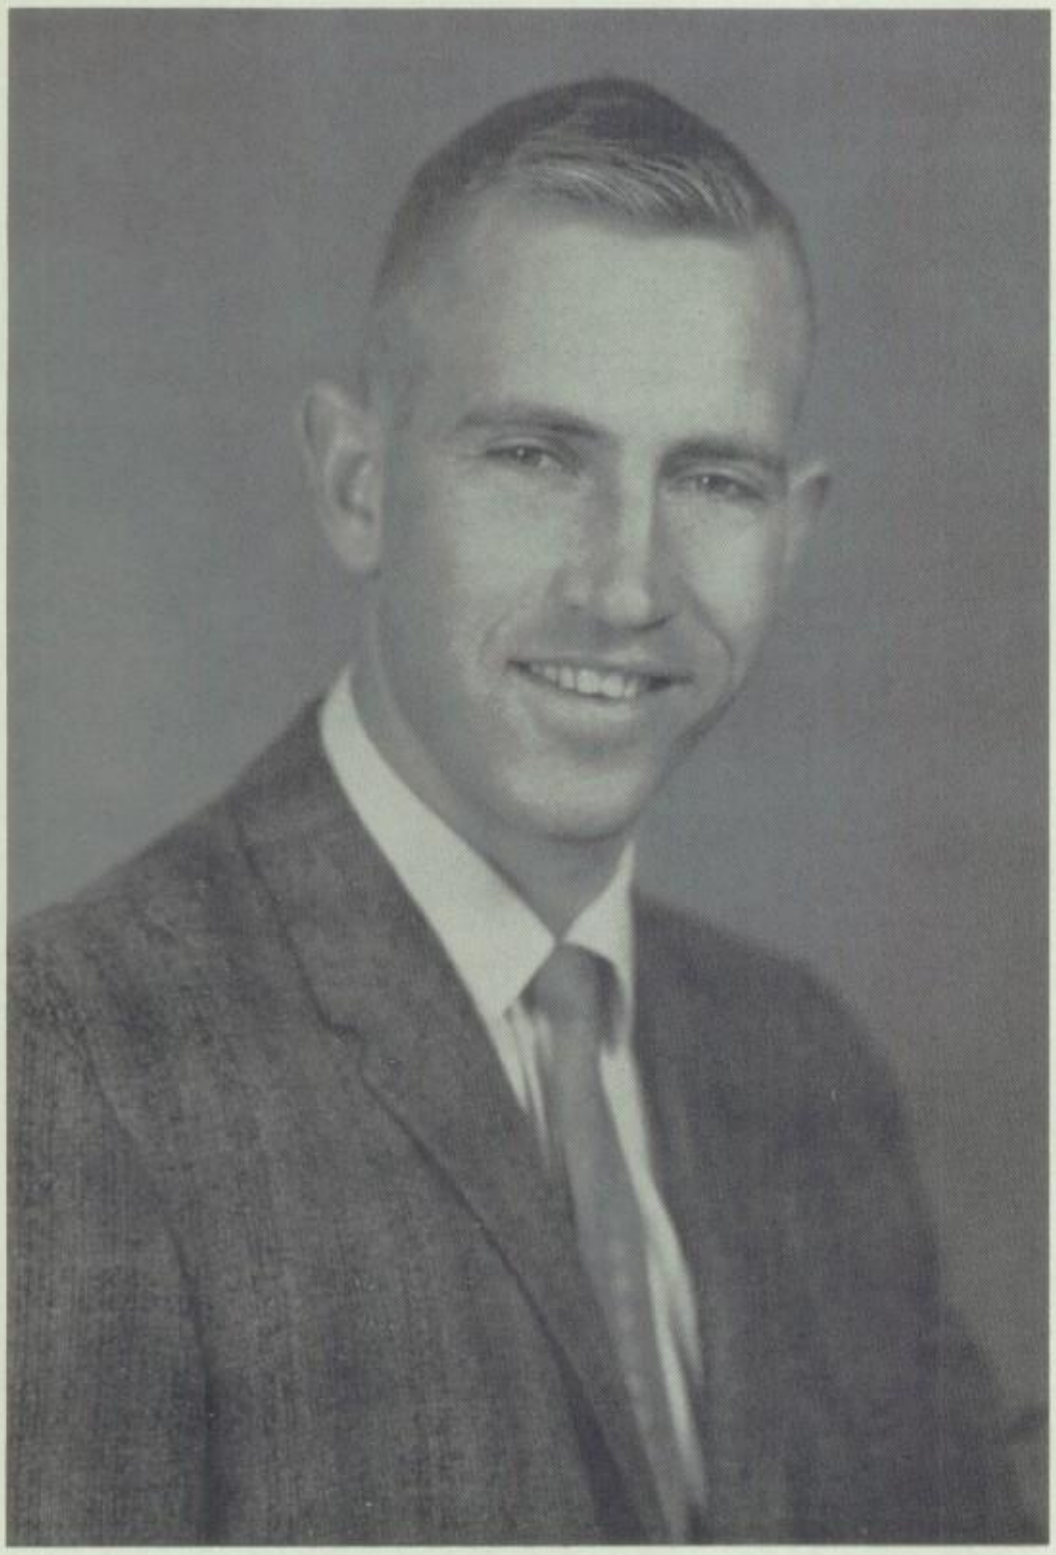
full of challenges
and new horizons.



Lon Arthur Christensen

1939-1964

"There is an appointed time for everything, and a time for every affair under the heavens.

"A time to be born, and a time to die. A time to plant, and a time to uproot the plant.

"A time to kill, and a time to heal. A time to tear down, and a time to build.

"A time to weep, and a time to laugh. A time to mourn, and a time to dance.

"A time to scatter stones, and a time to gather them. A time to embrace, and a time to be far from embraces.

"A time to seek, and a time to lose. A time to keep, and a time to cast away.

"A time to rend, and a time to see. A time to be silent, and a time to speak.

"A time to love, and a time to hate. A time of war, and a time of peace."

—Ecclesiastes 3:1-8.

For Lon Arthur Christensen a time came to die; for our school a time came to mourn.

A time came to look ahead; a time came to give forth with our best.

Lon Arthur Christensen gave forth with his best throughout his short life. In high school he was a star athlete representing the Eastside District in the fields of waterpolo, swimming, and gymnastics; in college he was captain of the San Jose State waterpolo team. He dedicated himself to the fulfillment of the promise of youth with a sound mind and a sound body.

His tremendous ability and interest in the field of athletics inspired many who knew him. He set an example for the youth of our nation and our school to live up to.

John Fitzgerald Kennedy

1917-1963

For John F. Kennedy a time came to die; for our nation and the world a time to mourn.

President Kennedy had courage: the courage to lead a nation through troubled times, and the courage to call upon us to stop thinking what our country could do for us and to think instead about what we could do for our country. He seemed to tell us that being ready to meet any challenge, to assume any responsibility, and to lose fear for ourselves in concern for the common good is what really matters.

He became a symbol of America: the land of the free, home of the brave. "I will dedicate myself to advancing the cause of freedom around the world," he stated in his Inaugural Address. He set up the Peace Corps to further American friendship in international affairs, and to further world peace. He fought for the controversial civil rights for all humans, negro or white, Catholic, Jewish, or Protestant.

"We in this country, in this generation, are—by destiny rather than choice—the watchmen on the walls of world freedom. We ask, therefore, that we may be worthy of our power and responsibility—that we may exercise our strength with wisdom and restraint—and that we may achieve in our time and for all time the ancient vision of peace on earth, good will toward men. That must always be our goal—and the righteousness of our cause must always underlie our strength. For it was written long ago: 'Except the Lord keep the city, the watchmen maketh in vain.'"

—EXCERPT FROM THE UNDELIVERED SPEECH TO BE DELIVERED IN DALLAS, TEXAS BY J. F. KENNEDY.

Administration

Eastside Union High School District

ADMINISTRATION

The District office personnel, through the Board of Trustees, has helped make possible the rapid development of our beautiful campus. The Board of Trustees represents the people in the community; the superintendent represents the Board of Trustees and faculty and is the liaison or "go-between" between the board and faculty.

The Board of Trustees and superintendent approve all plans for expenditures for our school. For example, the landscaping and construction of the swimming pools are items the district administration and Board of Trustees approved.

The Principal of the high school is in charge of the school and, assisted by other administrators of this school, help plan the curriculum, the activities, the athletic programs, and the orderly operations of the school. For example, the administration approves student programs, the fund raising drive, the schedule for assemblies, and also supervises the orderly conduct and behavior of the student body.

Foreign Language

With the help of the foreign language laboratory and the talents of the competent Foreign Language staff, who are either natives or who have lived or traveled abroad extensively, the students of the foreign language program are given the opportunity to acquire rapidly an excellent pronunciation and grasp new linguistic patterns and subtle nuances of the language being studied. In more advanced classes they are learning to read classic works of literature and to utilize the written word in original creations. Films, film-strips, taped materials, all help to extend the horizons providing cultural information related to the people whose language is being studied.

The Social Studies Department at W. C. Overfelt High is staffed by one of the finest groups of teachers in the country. These men share a variety of responsibilities aimed primarily at developing citizens who will understand our complex society and function well in it. In order to achieve its goals, the staff continually evaluates the instructional program, investigates new trends in education, and makes adjustments in the program when these changes hold promise of improving the curriculum. Students in team teaching classes this year will see a good example of this if they return next year, because much of the team teaching structure will be altered in the light of recent developments in education.

Science

The primary objectives of the science department are to provide the student with an adequate knowledge of scientific information to help him develop the ability to think intelligently; and to make him aware of the dominant role that scientific technology has in his daily life. In striving for these goals it is hoped that we can help create an intelligent, informed person ready to assume his adult responsibilities in our society.

Many things have happened this past year to meet the dual function of the mathematics department: that of preparing students who intend to work after high school on one hand and that of preparing students for college on the other.

For the college preparatory students block scheduling was introduced for the first time, whereby, students meet less frequently but for longer periods of time. A new text book was introduced to the first year algebra students while yet another for Geometry was studied for possible use in the coming year. Several students participated in various mathematics contests throughout the year with generally favorable results.

For the terminal students, programmed instruction was introduced to a group of General Math students in the hopes of providing a more interesting and rewarding approach to their future use of mathematics.

Industrial Arts

Mr. Arigoni
B.A., San Jose State

Industrial arts at William C. Overfelt High School is that part of general education which enables the student to better understand industry. Through industrial arts the student can become better acquainted with tools, processes and materials used in our modern industrial and technological society. Industrial arts give the student actual experience in the use of tools (hand and machine), process, and materials. The student is able to do this through lectures, demonstrations and shop work.

Industrial arts not only develops an awareness of industry, but also helps the student put his creative abilities, mechanical abilities, and intellectual abilities into practice.

Students in the industrial arts program learn by doing. Each student will have one or more projects, activities, or experiments to perform. This project is a means to an end. The student can apply his skills to the project. The outcome being that the student learns through actual work experience in the shop.

The courses consist of: beginning sewing, advanced sewing, basic nutrition, health and hygiene, meal preparation, preparation for marriage, child care, home management, home planning, home living, home decoration, and family relationships.

It is the hope that all the girls will take the opportunity to enroll in one or more classes in the home economics program so that every girl will enjoy the very fine up-to-date facilities that Overfelt High School has to offer, and, more important, to learn and to benefit from this kind of subject matter that is the basis of family life in our community.

Music has intrinsic value: it requires no external justification. Clearly music merits full rights in the curriculum.

The task of the school music program is essentially to organize a favorable musical environment in which every pupil can undergo the maximum musical growth consistent with his ability and his interests. The school must be especially concerned that it provides musical experiences which have significance in the daily living of the pupils both while they are in school and when they are away from school.

The field of physical education has accepted the challenge and is striving to raise the standards and degree of physical fitness for the youth of our nation. The Physical Education Department of William C. Overfelt High School is proud to be able to accept their share of this challenge.

KICK-OFF DANCE

The second annual KICK-OFF Dance was held September 20, in the Overfelt multi-purpose room. The event marked the start of the football season and was the first social event of the year for the Royals.

Sittin' one out

Where's ma Man?

SADIE HAWKINS

If ya gals were speedy enuff an catched yurself a feller, y'all kum to the big shindig Oct. 25th. Everybuddy wore slick stompin' britches and wailed on. If the fellers weren't fast enuff, they got dragged by their Daisy Mae to a Marryin' Sam critter. But it was all fer fun and as the moon creeped over the barnyard gate we all shook hands and said good-nite.

Shake it, Sadie!

How you gonna keep 'em down on the farm?

Go on and dance Hon, I'm plum tuckered out.

DANCES

High school life is filled with excitement, joys, and countless treasures. It is a life where education in a complete meaningful sense is foremost. Dancing is an important part of the high school routine.

From the Kickoff dance at the beginning of the year to the Farewell dance at the end of the year, students find the enjoyment and relaxation needed to relieve their burdened minds.

The Kickoff dance is perhaps the most welcomed dance of the year. Here, the student body as a whole gets together to welcome the Freshmen and new students, see old friends, and welcome back those graduates whose hearts still sing the Royal Alma Mater.

The annual Sadie Hawkins dance is sponsored by the Senior class. Everyone comes dressed in their old levis, boots, and kerchief shirts to do a little jig and join hands in a dosedo.

The Homecoming dance was held in the multi-purpose building to honor the Homecoming festivities, and the crowning of Fall Sports Queen, Margaret Terribilini. (Because of the death of our President, John F. Kennedy, the Homecoming game and rally were called off.)

The Annual Christmas dance was simple and beautiful. With everyone dressed in suits and pretty dresses, snowflakes hanging from the ceiling, and a tall Christmas tree, Christmas was well on its way.

The Junior Prom and the Senior Ball are two of the most lavish and important dances of the year. Dinner, cocktail dresses, and a dreamy band, add up to a gala event.

But the Farewell dance, the last dance of the year, is the one that brings tears to everyone's eyes. For the last time the Seniors dance with the underclassmen and recall their two memorable years at William C. Overfelt High School.

VARIETY TALENT SHOW

The sophomore class held their second annual talent show on December 6, and 7, 1963, in the multi-purpose building. Members of all the classes were able to participate in the show and demonstrate their varied abilities. The proceeds went to the sophomore treasury for future activities. The money will provide them with funds for their junior prom and senior ball. Mr. Mullins and Mr. Bocca, sophomore advisors, helped make the talent show a great success.

Talented dancers demonstrated their abilities in routines from "Bye Bye Birdie," "Got a Lot of Livin'" and "Telephone Hour." The top picture was an interpretation of "Lollypop."

ANGEL STREET

Angel Street depicted Mr. Manningham's insane desire for wealth. He had fifteen years before, savagely murdered his rich aunt because he wanted her Barlow Rubies. But the rubies eluded him as he eluded the police. Later, using his wife's money, he bought the house in which the rubies were supposedly still hidden. By hiding petty objects and claiming she had hidden them, he was driving his wife mad. But Inspector Rough of Scotland Yard solved the mystery and took Mr. Manningham to the gallows, freeing Mrs. Manningham from her fears. The Fall Play was performed on November 26.

MUSIC MAN

"The Music Man," by Meredith Wilson, was chosen for presentation by the music and drama departments for its charm and attraction of the "good old days." The story concerns the antics of city-slicker Harold Hill as he tries to sell a boys' band to the citizens of River City, Iowa. His major obstacle is Marian Paroo, the town librarian and piano teacher, and the resulting events form the humor and music of this full scale Broadway Musical.

Harold Hill (Carl Perry) attempts to win over Marian Paroo (Shari Dahl) in the town library.

The citizens of River City begin a street dance during an exciting moment of enthusiasm over the prospect of having the best band in the area.

Winthrop Paroo performs his solo on the Main Street of River City.

Visual Arts

CREATIVE ENDEAVOR

Creative endeavor may be described as man's desire and urge to originate, to invent, to express a unique viewpoint, to interpret life and events in an individual and meaningful manner, the urge to mold and shape something new. The area of the visual arts is ideally suited to the development of this creative urge. The visual arts exist primarily because of man's creativity and the nature of art media serves expressly well as a motivating and expressive material.

The art student contributes in many ways to the total picture of school life. He exhibits art in the school library and in other areas of the school complex. He designs posters and publicizes school activities. It becomes a natural process to utilize creative art ability in the development of the school yearbook. Some contributing students are pictured on these pages; others include Larry Micetich (Clubs division page design), Rudy Torres (Sports division page drawing), and Bryon Reese (Senior division page design).

Rosalie Govek drew the characters appearing on the Freshmen and Junior division pages.

ART AND THE CREATIVE SPIRIT

Forces shaping art reflect the creative spirit—a desire to capture the essence of a thing, to become aware of deep meanings, to know more of life, and in turn develop a meaningful statement. In the process of creative education students learn to really see, and to care: a student fashions a new entity from dead still life materials and paint; a yearbook editor conceives a significant whole statement from the raw materials provided by a year of school life, photographs, happenings, and cares enough to create a new totality. The creative spirit becomes a significant force worth encouraging and developing.

Stanford graduate students visited our school and filmed Sammy Macarone developing an idea for a creative wood crafts sculpture.

Despite the poor season two members made the all league selections: goalie Bill Andrus stood out in defense with an average of 13 saves per game; John Griefmeder led the team in offense with 39 scores for the season.

The Frosh-Soph also had a 2 and 5 record. Outstanding player was all-league member Tom Weaver.

The Freshmen show spirit as they root for their school.

FIRST DAY...

On September 10, 1963, school opened for the Freshmen only to acquaint the new high school students with the school and faculty members. On the first day, the Freshmen attended an assembly. Here they were introduced to the school heads, spirit leaders, and Student Body officers. For the first time the Freshmen sang their new Royal Alma Mater. At the left, the Freshmen can be seen going to the assembly. Below left and right, the Freshmen are seen getting acquainted with registration procedures.

First Rally...

During the first rally, the Freshmen showed much enthusiasm as they competed for the Rooter's Trophy along with the other classes.

FIRST SCHOOL RALLY...

The spirited Sophomores had a lot of yelling and shouting to do at the first rally. The Sophomores ranked high in competition for the Rooter's Trophy.

SPIRIT TROPHY

THEIR GOAL

The Sophomores surprised the whole student body when they won the hard sought for SPIRIT TROPHY. Although they were outnumbered by the Freshman class and nearly outwitted by the Senior class (who lost by a very small margin), the Sophomores displayed the necessary spirit and organization and were very deserving of the feat.

Senior Picnic

May 13, 1964

Seniors, Senioritis, and Senior antics are inseparable, But after all with occasions such as Senior Silly Saturday, October 27, 1963, and the Senior Picnic, May 13, 1964, who can blame them. These candid shots of Seniors at play will recall many pleasant memories for the Seniors of an era in their lives when Senioritis resulted in such Senior antics.

Senior Ball

The long anticipated Senior Ball became a reality on the night of April 25, 1964. The decorous atmosphere was created by star-lit chandeliers at the La Rinconada Country Club overlooking Los Gatos.

The highlight of the evening was the theme song "Among the Stars" written, composed, and sung by Mr. Bob Russell.

The evening was full of eventful and memory provoking activities. Seniors chatted around the simple table decorations, danced, enjoyed refreshments, and posed for couple pictures. The Senior Ball was truly one of the most memorable events for the Class of '64.

YEARBOOK MEMORIAL EDITION PRESENTATION FOCAL POINT OF HONOR DAY ASSEMBLY

May 29, 1964

"Today we have gathered together to honor the outstanding students of William C. Overfelt High School in the areas of athletics and scholastics.

"Through continued efforts these students may well continue to exceed scholastically and athletically in their quest for knowledge and achievement of their potential.

"This day also marks the 47th birthdate of our late beloved President, John Fitzgerald Kennedy who fulfilled the promise of youth with a sound mind and a sound body. Also dedicated to this endeavor was the late Lon Arthur Christensen whose devotion to the strong physical development of youth, and whose abilities and interest in the field of athletics inspired many who knew him.

"To these two men, John Fitzgerald Kennedy and Lon Arthur Christensen, who worked so diligently with the youth of our nation, we, the Citadel staff of 1964, make a memorial dedication."

Donna Sue Ellis
Editor
